

Dr Bernard Rosenfeld

A strong desire to help others led Dr. Bernard L. Rosenfeld to choose the medical profession as his life's work.

His commitment to helping and healing, combined with a genuine concern for women's health, is what makes Dr. Rosenfeld a compassionate and highly regarded physician.

Dr. Rosenfeld, a respected clinician and teacher, has been in the private practice of Obstetrics and Gynecology since 1980. He began his career as an assistant professor of Obstetrics and Gynecology at Baylor College of Medicine.

Dr. Rosenfeld earned a Doctorate in Psychology at the University of Texas at Austin and his medical degree from Tufts University School of Medicine in Boston. He served his internship at Highland Alameda County Hospital in Oakland, California and completed his residency in Obstetrics and Gynecology at Wayne State University School of Medicine. Board certified in OB/GYN, Dr. Rosenfeld is a member of the American Society for Reproductive Medicine and the American Association of Gynecologic Laparoscopists. He is an active member of many other OB/GYN associations.

Dr. Rosenfeld has been listed in the Consumers Research Council of America's Guide to America's Obstetricians and Gynecologists in 2002-2003 and 2004-2005. He was also listed in Top Doc's in Houston 2004 by H Texas Magazine. Dr. Rosenfeld received the American Medical Association's Physician Recognition Award 2000-2003.
